Frontend Developer Submission

Assuming Next Stage Company is going to launch a new mobile service for sports news, we need a landing page for the service for the users to subscribe to it, please follow these notes:

- Use Images, Animations and Videos.
- Animate some parts of the design.
- The page must be fully responsive.
- The page should be multilingual.
- The changing language process should be done with JavaScript (in the -same page with no redirect.

Please refer to the attached image "Sample Design.png" for what the page should look like. Please use a modern design and be creative. Please refer to the attached logo images to use and to follow for the color pattern. Refer to the following links for a similar service:
